

PowerUp with PowerApps Briefing

Spreadsheets are an amazing tool, but they are a poor business application for managing any kind of relationships.

It does not take long to outgrow a spreadsheet-based application. A common question we are asked is whether there are any options other than full-blown enterprise CRM solutions.

You can read more about the challenges of Spreadsheet-based solutions here.

Purpose of this Briefing

This no-obligation informational Briefing is designed to review what you are doing with spreadsheets today and see if the Power Platform could do a better job.

- The Power Platform includes PowerApps, Power BI and Microsoft Flow.
- These applications run on the Common Data Service (CDS) platform.

Deliverables

What does this Briefing include?

This is a one-hour phone call with a Power Platform expert to accomplish the following items:

- Review your existing Spreadsheet-based business processes
- Discuss your current Goals and Limitations
- Review the alternatives and approaches with Power Platform
- Review the licensing options and costs
- Discuss the "Citizen Developer" capabilities
- Discuss potential configuration costs and time
- Provide you with links to specific resources based on the discovery

This is an Informational Briefing, not a sales call.
