

Easily manage your recipes, create ingredient declarations, track allergens and calculate nutritional information.

BuildFood is cloud-based business management software that makes managing your small food company simple.

BuildFood, built by the makers of JustFood, extends the capabilities of Microsoft Dynamics 365 for Financials to include the features food companies need most, turning an already-robust financial management system into a complete formulation and batch management system that's powerful and easy to use in equal measure.

Store and manage recipes and formulas so they're straightforward to locate, compare and manage. Easily scale formulas up or down for different batch sizes.

Economize production by batching similar recipes together (for example, create one big batch of dough that will become a variety of finished products).

Generate ingredient declarations ordered by weight and nutritional information based on a finished product's formulation. BuildFood knows which ingredients you used, and how much, and calculates the information required for labels accordingly, including percentage daily value.

Reduce risk and anxiety by managing and declaring allergens.

Experiment with new formulas or create one-off recipes without lengthy or complicated software setup.

From the makers of JustFood

As the makers of JustFoodERP, we have over a decade of experience offering business software to larger food companies. BuildFood for Microsoft Dynamics 365 for Financials brings our expertise and most critical features to smaller businesses.

The most exciting part about BuildFood is that we're finally able to take the most essential features from our software for medium and large food businesses and make them available to food companies at the smaller end of the market. Now those companies can benefit from the same tools their large competitors use.
