Introduction

In today's hyper-competitive global market the most successful businesses use real-time information and move away from a 'reactive' approach to incorporating data into the decision making process towards 'proactive' data management. Pactera provides a complete Business Intelligence and Analytics offering by coupling management consulting with leading edge BI and Analytics technologies. Pactera's end to end capabilities allow us to design, implement, and manage analytics tools that fit the needs and industry of each client. We develop predictive capabilities to help executives make strategic and longterm business decisions.

PACTERA + POWER BI

With over 20 years of partnership with Microsoft, Pactera has become a trusted Power BI solutions provider and a featured partner on Power BI's website. Pactera has experience implementing Power BI solutions in a variety of industries from Health-care to Media & Entertainment for both B2B and B2C companies giving Pactera a unique perspective in the market.
