Join Silverware, Inc. for a distribution-focused assessment to determine if Business Central is the right ERP solution for your company.

This 1-hr workshop is for technical / business leaders and hosted in a private online webinar.

Agenda

- Assess your readiness to transition from QuickBooks and spreadsheets to a fully integrated ERP solution

- Compare your processes and system against functionality within Business Central to identify software fits and gaps

- Design a high-level Business Central implementation plan to support your transition to a high-performing distribution business

Deliverables

1. A clear understanding of how Business Central is suited for your processes

2. Next steps to improve your distribution business

Business Central Benefits for Distributors:

1. Use one system to manage the supply chain for multiple locations

2. Track costs of inventory, delivery, and labor to understand cost per unit

3. Master quality control with clear documentation of lot number and serial tracking

4. Report intelligently using built-in dashboards and alerts to see trends and forecasts

5. Consolidate data from all departments for real time analysis

6. Trace customers through the sales cycle for enhanced customer service

7. Create a single point of the truth
