

Turn Your Data into Actionable Intelligence

Did you know only 58% of businesses feel positioned to capitalize on their data?

Tallan's industry-leading Data & Analytics team can help you bring together disparate data sources into a secure, reliable storage platform, and create intuitive dashboards that transform your data and empower real-time business decisions.

Client Success Stories

Business Intelligence Solution

“Moran Towing had worked with Tallan before on a different initiative, so we knew they had the resources and the deep knowledge we needed to build a strong foundation. We have since implemented the recommendations of the roadmap with Tallan. Our Finance and Operations users can now access accurate information and they benefit from dramatically improved performance. Retrieving data used to take hours, now it’s down to a matter of seconds.”

Moran Towing Corporation

BI Rationalization

Over many years of growth and acquisitions, MVP Health Care was in need of a solution to eliminate the manual work that came with its reporting processes. With the expert help of Tallan, the health plan engaged in a BI Rationalization to consolidate its reporting procedures and automate many manual processes.

Our Offerings

Whether you are just beginning to understand your business data potential, or looking to take it to the next level, our offerings provide you with an effective BI solution that can be implemented across your entire organization and empower business decisions.

BI 101

What are our options?

Our technologists can help you understand the possibilities hidden in your data.

This introductory conversation will familiarize your team with data and reporting tools and how they can solve some of your most pressing business challenges.

Readiness Assessment

Where do we start?

You know you need better BI. It's hard to find, align and make sense of the data available.

We can help.

With this engagement, our experts dive into your business needs, to define a BI strategy or analytics proof of concept that take into consideration data storage, architecture, security and visualization needs.

BI Rationalization

How can we make this happen?

Putting readiness into action, our team wades through your disparate data sources, reports and processes to identify and remediate inconsistencies and inaccuracies.

We then apply best practices and automation to standardize your data and its use, providing a firm foundation for your BI, now and in the future - whether on-premises or in the cloud.

BI Optimization

How can we take it to the next level?

You've already got this BI thing down. Now it's time to use it to better your business.

In this stage, we can modernize your business processes using tools that mine your data, build forecasting and planning systems, leverage predictive analytics and seamlessly incorporate these insights into your daily activities - transforming your data into meaningful organizational change.
